"I really love what I do, and every detail is important to ensure everyone walks away from the experience happy."

With the arts and culture of Miami as her muse, and blue ocean vistas in the background, Daniela Misrahi, principal of Daniela Misrahi Design, creates sleek and chic spaces. While the soothing elegance of a neutral palette is a frequent favorite for the Argentinian designer and her distinguished clients, the occasional pop of color brings a touch of the unexpected. "I enjoy spaces that lean toward contemporary, light and bright, but without losing their sense of individuality," she shares. She feels the style lends itself to complementing South Florida's natural landscapes, and this has propelled her award-winning, much-beloved projects. Even after building such an illustrious portfolio, Misrahi still appreciates that she's truly "living the dream." "Being the third generation in my family to work in this industry, I had discovered my passion for design when I was quite young," she says. "With my background and professional knowledge,

I have been able to develop my brand and engage in projects that are known worldwide. I am so lucky to be able to do what I love!" Her clients feel the good fortune too, praising Daniela Misrahi Design for its ability to keep things trendy and forward-thinking while providing a process that is flexible, fun and easy to navigate.

ASK THE EXPERT

How do you include the client in your creative process?

They are closely involved from day one. For us, the most important aspect of design is to satisfy their needs and reflect their personality. By collaborating from beginning to end, we can create places that are wholly unique and ideal for their lifestyle.

What's next for the firm?

We are excited to be moving into our new Miami studio in Suite 104 at 7924 NE 2nd Avenue.

What project would you love to take on?

Since I love spending family holidays in Aspen, Colorado, I believe that it would be gratifying to design a project there. I would be able to change environments from the beach (my usual forte) to the mountains.
